Comparative Sex Regimes and Corporate Governance

9-9:30 Welcome to Pace
Welcome to Pace, Dean Michelle Simon
Framing Comparative Sex Regimes and Corporate Governance
Darren Rosenblum

9:30-10:50 Panel One: Corporate Governance Shifts
Will corporate governance change once sex regimes feminize a critical mass of capital? How do different inequality remedies relate to each other? Amy Dittmar, Aaron Dhir, Kim Krawiec, Martin Gelter, Andrew Lund (Moderator), David Chekroun (Commentator)

11:20-12:30 Panel Two: Democratic Purpose
Are these measures designed to achieve good governance, women’s empowerment, or gender balance? Anne Alstott, Julie Suk, Cheryl Wade, Ann Bartow (Moderator), Bridget Crawford (Commentator)

Lunch 12:30-1:30

1:30-2:30: Dyson Lecture
Horatia Muir Watt, Sex Regimes and Corporate Governance: a Transatlantic Conversation, Darren Rosenblum (Commentator, Moderator for Q&A)

3:15-4:45 Panel Three: Unintended Consequences
Are quotas an effective tool to realize those objectives? If not, how might boards circumnavigate around them? What are possible unintended consequences of quotas? Dan Danielsen, Fernanda Nicola, Tom Tyler, Mary Anne Case (Commentator)
4:45-5 Concluding Remarks

Darren Rosenblum